SONG OF THE AMERICAN GIRL.

Our hearts are with our native land,
Our song is for her glory;
Her warrior's wreath is in our hand,
Our lips breathe out her story.
Her lofty hills and valleys green
Are smiling bright before us;
And like a rainbow sign is seen,
Her proud flag waving o'er us.

And there are smiles upon our lips,
For those who meet her foemen;
For glory's star knows no eclipse,
When smiled upon by women.
For those who brave the mighty deep,
And scorn the threat of danger,
We've smiles to cheer—and tears to weep
For every ocean ranger.

Our hearts are with our native land,
Our song is for her freedom,
Our prayers are for our gallant band
Who strike where honor'll lead them.
We love the taintless air we breathe,
'Tis Freedom's endless dower;
We'll twine for him a fadeless wreath,
Who scorns a tyrant's power.

They tell of France's beauties rare,
Of Italy's proud daughters,
Of Scotland's lasses—England's fair,
And nymphs of Shannon's waters:
We need not all their boasted charms,
Though lords around them hover,
Our glory lies in Freedom's arms,
A freeman for a lover.

Interesting Miscellany.

Getting "Fits" in a Clothing Store.

BY CROSBY C. NOYES.

Lewistown Falls, Maine, is a place, it is! You can't exactly find it on the map, for it has been located and incorporated since Mitchell's latest, but it's there—a manufacturing city, as large as life, with banks, barber shops, newspapers, and all the usual fixtures and appurtenances of a locomotive go-ahead Yankee settlement.

Just about the newest thing in the new city, is a new, cheap clothing store that "riz up," or "rained down," lately, on the Jonah's gourd or Alladdin's palace principle, and which by the same mysterious dispensation became endowed with a couple of the cutest Yankee salesmen that the Diego State ever turned out. T'other day an up river young 'un who is about to forsake father and mother, and cleave unto his Nancy Ann, came down to get his wedding suit, and was of course "jest naterally bound" to find his way into the new clothing store. Not that he sauntered in with the easy swagger of the town bred searcher after cheap clothing, for the vernal tint was tolerable fresh on him yet, and he stopped to give a modest rap at the door. He had effected an entrance at the grist mill and at the Journal office, where he had been doing business, in the same unobtrusive manner, and the boys all agreed that Mr. Nehemiah Newbegin was from "the Gulley," and was paying his virgin visit to "Pekin."

Nehemiah was let in "imeejitly," and he was delighted by the cordial reception he met with.

The proprietors were ready to "forward his suit" at once, if he "saw fit" or they would "take measures" and "furnish him to order." Nehemiah drew a handbill from the top of his hat, and spread it upon his knee for easy reference. It was headed in fat gothic letters:—

"Winter Clothing at Cost!"

And set forth that in consequence of the mildness of the season, over five hundred thousand dollars worth of ready made clothing was to be closed up and sold out at an

"Enormous Sacrifice!!!"

A list of prices followed, and Nehemiah running his stumpy fingers down the column, lit with emphasis on a particular item.

"Say!—v'ye got enny of these blew cotes left at five dollars 'nd five a'af an' six dollars—got enny on 'em left?"

"Smith, are there any of those cheap coats left?" enquired the "perlite" Mark of his partner, "we sold the last this morning, did we not?"

Smith understands the cheap clothing business, and answered promptly. "All gone sir!"

"Jest s'I expected," murmured the disappointed candidate, "darnation seize 't all, I told dad they'd be all gone!"

"We have a very superior article at ten dollars—"

"Scarcely, Squire, scarcely?—ten dollars is an all fired price for a cote!"

"We can make you one to order."

"Yes! but I want it noow—want it rite strut off—fact is, Squire, I must hev 'un."

"You'd find these cheap at ten dollars."

"Dun know baout it! Say, v'ye got enny of these dewrable doeskin trowsers left, at tew dollars; sold them all, tew, 'spect, haint ye? haint none of them left nuther, hev' ye?"

Luckily there were a few left, and Nehemiah was advised to secure a pair at once. Nehemiah was open for a trade, but acting up to the instincts of the Newbegins, it must be a dicker.

"Dew yeou ever tek projeuce for your clothing?"

"Take what?"

"Projeuce—garden sass and sich—don't dew it, dew yeou?"

"Well, occasionally we do, what have you to sell?"

"Oh, most anything; a leetle of everything, from marrowfat peas down to rye straw; got some new cider, some high-top sweetings; got some of the all-killin'est dried punkin yeou ever sot eyes on; spect, neow, yeou'd like some of that dried punkin."

Mark declined negotiating for the "dried punkin," but inquired if he had any good butter.

"G-o-o-d butter! neow, Squire, I spect I've got some of the nicest and yallerest yeou ever sot eyes on; got some out here now, got some in a shooger box, eout in dad's waggin; bro't it daown fer Kurnel Waldron, but yeou can hev it; I'll bring strut in here, darn'd ef I daon't!" and with all the impetuosity of youth, Nehemiah shot forth to 'dad's waggin,' and brought in the butter. On the strength of the butter a dicker was speedily contracted, by which Nehemiah was to be put in immediate and absolute possession of a coat, vest, and pantaloons, all of good material and fit.

"Now then," said Mark, "what kind of a coat will you have?"

"I reckon I'll hev a blew 'un, Squire."

"Yes, but what kind, a dress coat?"

"Certaingly, Squire, certaingly; jest what I want a cote fer, tew dress in."

"Ah, exactly; well just look at those plates," pointing to the fashion plates in the window, "and see what style you fancy."

"Oh, darn yeour plates, daon't want no crockery; spect Nance has got the all-killenist lot of arthen ware yaou ever sot eyes on!"

"Yes, I see; well, step this way then, and I think I can accommodate you."

Nehemiah speedily selected a nice blue coat, and a vest of green, but he was more fastidious in his choice of pants, those crowning glories of his new suit. He seemed to indulge in a weakness for long pantaloons, and complained that his last pair had troubled him exceedingly, or as he expressed it "blamedly," by hitching up over his boots, and wrinkling about the knees. Nehemiah delved away impetuously amidst a stack of two or three hundred pairs, and finally his eyes rested upon a pair of lengthy ones, real blazers, with wide yellow stripes running each way. Nehemiah snaked them out in a twinkling. He liked them—they were long and yellow—they were just the thing, and he proceeded to try them at once.—The new clothing store has a nook curtained off for this purpose, and Nehemiah was speedily closeted therein.

The pants had straps on, and the straps were buttoned; now Nehemiah had seen straps before, but the art of managing them was a mystery, and like Sir Patrick's dilemma, "required a mighty dale of nice conception." On deliberation he decided that his boots must go on first; he accordingly drew on his Bulchers, mounted a chair, elevated the pants to a proper angle, and endeavored to coax his legs into them. He had a time of it. His boots were none of the smallest, and his pants though long, were none of the widest; the chair, too, was rickety, and bothered him; but bending his energies to the task, he succeeded in inducting one leg into the "pesked things." He was straddled like the Collossus of Rhodes, and was just in the act of raising the other foot, when a whispering and giggling, in his immediate vicinity, made him alive to the appalling fact that nothing but a thin curtain of chintz separated him from twenty or thirty of the prettiest and wickedest girls that were ever caged in one shop! Nehemiah was a bashful youth, and would have made a circumbendibus of a mile, any day, rather than meet those girls, even had he been in full dress; as it was, his mouth was ajar at the bare possibility of making his appearance amongst them in his present dishabille. What if there was a hole in the curtain! What if it should fall! It wouldn't bear thinking of, and plunging his foot into the vacant leg, with a sort of frantic looseness, he brought on the very catastrophe he was so anxious to avoid.—The chair collapsed with a sudden "scrunch," pitching Nehemiah head over heels through the curtain, and he made his grand entrance among the stiching divinities, on all fours, like a fettered rhinoceros.

Perhaps Collier himself never exhibited a more striking group of tableaux vivantes than was now displayed. Nehemiah was a "model," every inch of him, and though not exactly revolving on a pedestal, he was going through that movement as effectually on his back, kicking, plunging, in short, personifying in thirty seconds all the attitudes ever "chiselled!" As for the girls they screamed of course, jumped upon chairs and the cutting board, threw their hands over their faces, peeped through their fingers, screamed again, and declared they "should die, they knew they should!"

"Oh, Lordy!" blubbered the distressed young 'un, "don't holler so, gals, don't! I didn't go tew, I swan to man I didn't; it's all owin' to them cussed trowsers, every mite on't. Ask yer boss, he can tell you how it 'twas. Oh, Lordy, won't nobody kiver me over with old clothes or turn the wood box over me?—Oh, Moses in the bulrushes! What'll Nancy say?"

He managed to raise himself on his feet and made a bole splurge towards the door, but his "entangling alliances" tripped him up again, and he fell "kerslap" upon the hot goose of the pressman! This was the unkindest cut of all. The goose had been heated expressly for thick cloth seams, and the way it sizzled in the seat of the new pants was afflicting to the wearer.—Nehemiah riz up in an instant, and seizing the source of all his troubles by the slack, he tore himself free from all save the straps and some pantalet-like fragments that hung about his ankles, he dashed through the door of the emporium, at a 2.50 pace. Nehemiah seemed to yearn, with the poet, "for a lodge in some vast wilderness," and betrayed a settled purpose to "flee from the busy haunts of men," for the last seen of him he was capering up the railroad, cutting like a scared rabbit, the rays of the declining sun flickering and dancing upon a broad expanse of shirt-tail that fluttered gaily in the breeze, as he headed for the nearest woods.

Printer's Proverbs.

1. Never inquire thou of the editor for the news; for behold, it is his duty at the appointed time to give it unto thee without asking.

2. When thou dost write for his paper, never say unto him, "What thinkest thou of my piece?" for it may be that the truth would offend thee.

3. It is not fit that thou should'st ask of him who is the author of an article upon subjects of public concernment, for duty requires him to keep such things unto himself.

4. When thou dost enter into the printing-office have a care unto thyself that thou dost not touch the type, for thou mayest cause the printer much trouble.

5. Look thou not at copy which is in the hands of the compositors, for that is not meet in the sight of the printer, and he might knock thee down.

6. Never examine the proof-sheet, for it is not ready to meet thine eye, that thou mayest understand it.

7. Prefer the HUNTINGDON GLOBE to all other papers; subscribe immediately for it, pay in advance, and it shall be well with thee and thy little ones.

☞ When our desires are fulfilled to the very letter, we always find some mistake which renders them anything but what we expected.

My Mother.

Sweet words! We are taught in our infancy to call them, when we scarcely know their meaning, and as we grow older, we love them more and more. 'Tis our mother, who when we are not able to think and do for ourselves, provides for us, and when we know not what we want, 'tis she who attends to our wants and gives us nourishment.

Who does not love that name? No one unless he be devoid of soul. How beautiful the words sound when they come from the lips of the little rosy-cheeked child! Nothing is more beautiful. At nightfall, see with what fondness he proceeds to his little chamber, and kneels down by his mother's knee; and with his little hands raised towards heaven, repeats after her his evening prayer; and when he has done; how pleased he seems when she raises him and impresses upon his lips the sweet token of her affection.

It is our mother who first teaches us right from wrong, and by good counsel, endeavors to guide us in the path of happiness. "MY MOTHER!" There is music in the words, far more sweet and pleasant to the ear than any other in the vocabulary of our language. When dangers surround us, and troubles perplex, none is more ready to aid us in our trouble than our mother.

The poor sea-tossed mariner as he glides o'er the briny deep, calls to mind the pleasing recollections of his boyhood days, when all around is still and quiet save the shrill whistle of the wild wind as it hurries through the rigging of his gallant bark. He remembers then the happy, happy time, when he sat around the beloved fireside and listened to the kind advice proffered by her—his truest and best friend—and sighs to think the time has passed never to return.

There is none in all the world more ready and willing to sacrifice their happiness for us, that we may prosper than our mother. None more fervently prays to Heaven to bless us and guide us in the path of virtue, truth and love. The Sacred volume tells us that we shall "Honor our father and our mother," and whose soul is so void of love as to do otherwise? It is a command from high Heaven, and we should beware how we break the holy injunction.

We should love our mother, above all others, save our Father in Heaven; for it is to her we owe our being; and for all our good teachings we are indebted to her. When time shall have cast his frosty hand o'er her brow, and old age creeps slowly on—when her hoary head shall be laid on the pillow of sickness, and she is worn down by the troubles of this life—it is our imperative duty to take care and provide for her; for when we were unable to provide for ourselves she watched o'er us ministering to our wants. She was never weary in doing for us; for when we lay on the couch of sickness none watched more diligently, and with her soft hand would brush from our forehead the stray hairs, and impress upon yur lips the sweet token of her dear love.

"There is none
In all the cold and hollow world, no fount
Of deep, strong, deathless love, save that within
A mother's heart."

Our friends may desert us—sisters and brothers may scorn at us, and our father may turn us out in the world to be dependent upon the cold heart of charity for our bread—but our mother never will forsake us. No; e'en though crime may betray us, and we may be doomed to linger out our days in a dungeon, a mother's love is ever true. Her constant thoughts are of us; and though she may have but one loaf to her share, her child is welcome to the most. GOD BLESS OUR MOTHER!—for when we could not pray for ourselves she prayed for us.

A mother's love is the symbol of the love of God; for we may at times treat with contempt her good counsel, but she is ever ready to forgive and with extended arms welcome us back to our home to share her humble meal. What then should be the love of a child! Should we not love her next to our God? We know you will say yes, gentle reader; for if there be one spark of love in your soul, the thought of your mother will fan it to a flame, and it will burn with more brilliancy every day you live.

How beautiful the poet speaks of a mother's love, in the following lines:

"Sweet is the image of the brooding dove!
Holy as Heaven a mother's tender love!
The love of many prayers, and many tears,
Which changes not with dim, declining years—
The only love which on this teeming earth,
Asks no return for passions wayward birth,"

MRS. PARTINGTON AGAIN.—"Dear me," exclaimed Mrs. Partington as she leaned back in her old arm-chair, and looked abstractedly into the fire, "I've just been reading in the Bugle of Freedom about Mr. Wagglesmeller abspondin with with the Catstail Bank." Here Isaac interrupted her train of thought by enquiring whether "it was anything like the Canal Bank?" "No, no, Isaac, it's worse than that; it's one that has a Presentment, and a Board of Distractors, and a Sally Amanda safe, and every one carries the key!" "Well mother, who was Mr. Wagglesmeller," said Isaac looking up, his countenance covered with scars, which he had received from the toe nails of the old cat, while attempting to wash her teeth with the old lady's tooth brush. "Why, my son," said the good old soul, shaking her left foot, which had fallen asleep, "he was the man they called the Crasher; I expose it's because he crashed the Bank; you see, Isaac, sometimes he would get mortally insane and borrow money without letting anybody know he was going to do it, not even the one who lent it. Now you see he got so far out of his head, that he left all the common cents; he had also his promonitary note in the bank, and he took all the good notes and gold and silver and crédit, and then he absponded." "Well, mother, I know how they could catch him," said Isaac. "How," exclaimed the old lady, her eyes wide open in astonishment. "Why, mother, they might just throw a little salt on his tail; I've seen Bobby Breakwindow catch pigeons that way," and Isaac departed whistling that plaintive melody called "Tother side of Jordan."

Act!

"Act—act in the living present,
Heart within and God o'er head."

Inaction is the bane of existence. Verily, that soul is cursed, yea, dead, that slumber and sloth have made captive. It seems as if a resistless spell had bound the race—as if the soul-springs of action were motionless. We refer not to effort put forth to amass wealth and gratify self, but to heart labor—labor for humanity—to make a destiny. Mighty is the work of life—thrillingly earnest the demand for fullest energy.

Let seraph take this work of ours,
'Twould task e'en all his noble powers.

Act! not to-morrow, but to-day, "in the living present." Act! not by a fitful impulse, but with unyielding steadiness, and all the moral energy of the "heart within." Act, Christian! Perdition threatens.—Immanuel's battles are to be fought—his banners to wave on every plain. Act, philanthropist! Great moral evils are fearfully predominant. A tide of burning woes is rushing upon thy fellows. Tears are falling, hearts are breaking, sighs and groans are vibrating through the very heart. Act for innocence—act for the right, till the death-pang takes thy power away; call every nerve to effort against the hosts infernal on earth; "God o'erhead," thou canst not fail.

"Act, ye millions! Wrong is reigning;
Earth is groaning 'neath his sway;
Fearless meet the hell-born tyrant;
Heaven shall laud thy deed for aye."

THE PISTOL.—An Irishman driven to desperation, by the stringency of the money market, and the high price of provisions, procured a pistol and took to the road.

Meeting a traveller he stopped him, with your money or your life!"

Seeing that Pat was green, he said:

"I tell you what I'll do. I'll give you all my money for that pistol."

"Agreed."

Pat received the money and handed over the pistol.

"Now," said the traveller, hand back that money, or I'll blow your brains out."

"Blizzard away me hearty," said Pat, "divil the dhrop of powther there's in it sure."

Heaven—a land of joy, of light, and love supreme.

The Homestead.

How dear to my heart are the scene of my childhood.

How sacred the recollections that cluster around the spot where we were born—the spot where first we learned to look upon the beauties of nature—the green sward—the waving corn—the stately tree—and the little, clear, bubbling spring at its root, from which, during the long, long days of summer school, we slaked our thirst, or sought a short relief from the tiresome, straight-backed school house bench; the rippling brook, with its grassy bank, and speckled trout, and little falls that turned the tiny wheel.

The place where we first chased the gay butterfly and timid "chipmunc"; where first we tangled the grass of the mower by searching for the delicious strawberry, and where first we plucked the bright tempting cherry, the lucious peach, the dainty pear, and the always enduring and ever grateful apple.

Where, with brothers and sisters and little visiting friends, we had our play-houses—our ovens of sand—our acorn cups and saucers, and plates of broken china, and made the miniature stately calls and formal tea-parties; and with what stately stride we imitated the walk of our elders in doing it; where we played 'keep school' and 'preach,' and anon with hard-back blossoms or cockerel's feathers in our caps, we strutted forth, the embryo defenders of our country's rights, the gallant volunteers.

The place where first we learned to listen to the rapturous notes of the free happy, orchard melodists—the robin and her associates to the chattering swallow, and the plaintive whippoor-will.

The place where first we learned to lisp the names of father and mother; and to utter the first pure sentiments of fraternal love for brother, and for "sister dear."

But above all, and more than all, the spot where first the holy love of mother taught our infant thoughts to revere, and our infant lips to pray, "Our Father, who art in Heaven."

How intimately and indissolubly connected with, how wholly enshrined upon, the spot where we were born—the old homestead—are all the recollections of the pure gushing joys of early years! And who, in after life, can see a stranger lord of that manor, without a pang of sorrow? Who would not then feel that such possession is sacriligious?

"Give, Oh, give me back my home,
My own dear NATIVE home."

THE GLOBE.

Circulation—the largest in the county.

HUNTINGDON, PA.

Wednesday, October 21, 1857.

Premium Apples.—Mr. Jacob Hetrick and lady presented us with a handsome variety of their premium apples for which they have our thanks.

Premium Peaches.—Mr. Henry W. Miller has our thanks for two very handsome and delicious peaches, raised in his garden, and which took the first premium at our late fair.

The largest Grapes.—Mr. Christian Long of this place, presented us yesterday with several bunches of the largest Isabella grapes we have seen this season. If he had offered them at the fair we have no doubt he would have received the first premium. He will please accept our thanks for the present.

Premium Maple Sugar.—Mr. Jacob Weaver, of Hopewell township, presented us with a handsome specimen of Maple Sugar which received the first premium. He will please accept our thanks for the same.

Illustrated Annual Register of Rural Affairs for 1858, is a handsome work of 144 pages, published by Luther Tucker & Son, Albany, N. Y. It contains 130 engravings, including houses, farm buildings, implements, domestic animals, fruits, flowers, &c. Every farmer and horticulturist should secure a copy. Price 27 cents, free of postage. Address Luther Tucker & Son, Albany, New York.

☞ Our intelligence this week in reference to the success of the Union ticket, has been of the most flattering nature. We would not be surprised at all if the majority of some of our candidates would reach a thousand, and among that number will be found the names of Glasgow, Lane and Moore—Shirleysburg Herald.

Brother Miller will never make a prophet. Glasgow is defeated by 60 votes and Moore by 158. Messrs Murphy and Caldwell request us to return thanks to the Herald for its bitter opposition to their election.

Murder in self-defence.—We learn that a young man by the name of James Fluck, and two others, made an attack upon a young man named Dillinger, while in company with two ladies going from singing school near Stonerstown, last week, and to save his own life, stabbed two of the party, young Fluck dying immediately. The other young man may recover.

A present extraordinary.—On Monday afternoon last, a three bushel bag filled with sweet pumpkins, cabbage, onions, quinces, apples, beans, "snits," radishes and a fine cut of ham, arrived at the Broad Top Depot for us, (the "Globe" family,) a present from Mrs. Jacob Weaver, of Hopewell township. This present, coming from the better half of a regular advance paying subscriber to The Globe, makes us feel like looking hard times fair and square in the face with a smile. We will not say that there is not another family in the county as liberal with their plenty as Mr. and Mrs. Weaver,—if there is, now is a very proper time to fill a bag and have it directed to the Globe office. Mr. and Mrs. W. have our thanks.

Hard Times.—In every direction we see evidences of hard times. The merchant, the mechanic, the laborer, the professional man, the farmer, and even the loafer, complain of the times. What can be done to make the times better? In our opinion, if every man able to pay, would pay, his small debts, and his larger ones as far as possible, there would be less complaint of hard times. We have thousands of dollars upon our books scattered all over the county, and out of it, in sums of from $1 50 to $10. We want money, cannot see how we are to get along without it, must have it.

The Fair.

The crowd in attendance was large, very large, considering the bad weather during the whole time of the exhibition. The display of stock, vegetables, fruit, &c., was good, and would have been extraordinary had the weather been favorable. We learn that the receipts into the Treasury fell far short of last year—but we hope for better luck next year. The officers and committees deserve, and receive, great praise for the manner in which they discharged their duties.

The Result in the County.

The official returns of the county in to-day's Globe elect three of the Democratic nominees—Dr. Daniel Houtz to the Legislature, David Caldwell Prothonotary, and James Murphy Director of the Poor. The election of Dr. Houtz we do not claim as a party victory, further than that he was the best man of the three before the people for the office. The election of Caldwell and Murphy is a Democratic victory. The Union party were united in opposition to them, and with the aid of three presses in the county, done all it was possible for a party to do to defeat them. But they have triumphed—triumphed over falsehood and trickery, and we feel well satisfied they will fill the offices to the entire satisfaction of the people of the county. Our defeated candidates must hope for better luck next time.

The Result in this District.

When this Senatorial District was formed last winter there was not a Democrat in it that could be persuaded to believe that at this early day the Democracy would be rejoicing over the success of one of their own faith. Not three weeks ago the Journal and American declared that their party had a majority in this district of 1500 votes, and that Koontz' majority would not be a vote less. But the editors knew not the strength of our candidate, Wm. P. Schell—they supposed the people "would go it blind," as they had frequently done before. They now have their eyes open and can see how easily a good candidate can beat a mere politician. Wm. P. Schell's majority in this county is 197—all honor to the good sense of the majority of our voters. Bedford county gave Schell the handsome majority of 619 votes, Somerset gave Koontz but 589 majority, 500 short of the majority promised by his political friends. Wm. P. Schell's majority in the District is 221. Glory enough for three years.

The Result in the State.

The Democracy have triumphed by thousands over all opposition. All the isms have been completely crushed out. Gen. Packer, Strong, Thompson and Strickland, the democratic nominees for State offices have all been elected by large majorities. The country is safe. Abolitionism can never succeed in its hellish designs so long as our good old Keystone State remains firm in the faith of the fathers of our blessed Union.

The official vote of the State will be given as soon as received.

Senator Schell and the Speakership.

There is nothing among the incidents of our late success, to the democracy of this district and the commonwealth, so worthy of congratulation as the election of Mr. Schell to the Senate. A district formed and planned to subserve certain ends of political schemers among the opposition, has triumphantly returned one of the purest and ablest democrats in the State. Possessed of talents of a high order, legislative experience, and unbounded popularity, the eyes of the people at once turn to our Senator elect as the next Speaker of that body. Mr. Schell has already served with great and deserved credit as Speaker of the House of Representatives, and we are sure there is no one amongst the many able democrats, who now constitute the majority of the Senate, who would more ably fill the presiding chair, or who would render more general satisfaction to its members and the public.

Dr. Wm. Graffius.

We find the following notice of the loss of Dr. Wm. Graffius, in the last number of the Womans' Advocate, published in Philadelphia:

"We learn with sincere regret, that Dr. William Graffius, of Alexandria, Huntingdon County, Pa., took passage from Aspinwall on the Central America, and that he is undoubtedly among the lost of that fearful occasion. Dr. G. resided for some time in this city, where his superior abilities and fine social qualities endeared him to a large circle of friends, who will hear with unfeigned regret, of his sad fate. But a few months since, we read, in a daily paper of this city, his account of a night on the Carribean sea in an open canoe, during a terrible storm, from which he made a most wonderful escape with his life. His letters contained, also, many valuable facts in regard to the interior of New Granada, and would have been continued but for his untimely end. He went out, over a year ago, as physician to the New Granada, Mineral Land Company, and was on his first return trip.—He was a graduate of the Pennsylvania Medical College, of the Class of 1854, and gave promise of being one of the lights of the profession. His aged and bereaved parents reside at Alexandria."

☞ The Hon. Louis McLane, the cotemporary of Jackson, Clay, Webster, and the older Statesmen of the country, is dead. He died in Baltimore, on the 7th inst., in his 71st year. He was born in Smyrna, Delaware. He occupied many exalted official stations. Among them, Minister to England, Secretary of the Treasury under President Jackson, Senator in Congress, &c. He was always regarded as a pure man, as he was universally recognized as an able man. His health has for some years been in a precarious state. His demise reduces the number of truly good and superior statesmen which have honored and benefitted the country, without leaving behind him another to fill his place. It seems as if our country were falling off in the character of her first men. The prestige of most of the prominent ones of the present day, is lacking that confidence and influence which the stability of the institutions and the social position of the nation demand.

Cincinnati, Oct. 17.—All of the counties heard from; each party claims one hundred majority for their candidates. The official returns only will decide.

The Bank Relief Bill.

The following is the bill for the relief of the Banks of the State, as it passed both Houses of the Legislature, and received the signature of the Governor on Tuesday:

An act providing for the resumption of specie payments by the banks, and for the relief of debtors.

Sec. 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, in General Assembly met, and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same, That the provisions of every act of Assembly, or of incorporation or re-incorporation, heretofore passed, declaring or authorizing the forfeiture of any bank, saving, trust, and insurance company or corporation, having banking privileges, or inflicting penalties, or authorizing any compulsory assignment, for or by reason of the non-payment of any of its liabilities, or the issuing or paying out the notes of other banks incorporated under the laws of this Commonwealth, though not specie-paying, or its loaning or discounting without the requisite amount of specie or specie funds, since the first day of September, Anno Domini, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-seven, be and the same are hereby suspended until the second Monday of April, Anno Domini, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-eight, and all forfeitures and penalties, or liability thereto, heretofore incurred, or that may be hereafter incurred, before the said second Monday of April, under such acts of Assembly or incorporation or re-incorporation, for or by reason of the causes aforesaid, or any of them, are hereby remitted, and so much thereof as prohibits any bank from making loans and discounts, issuing its own notes, or the notes of other banks incorporated under the laws of this Commonwealth, though not specie-paying or declaring dividends, during the suspension of specie payments, or from loaning or discounting, without the requisite amount of specie or specie funds as aforesaid be, and the same is hereby, suspended until the day and year aforesaid, and any such bank, during such suspension of specie payments, may declare dividends to an amount not exceeding six per cent. per annum on its capital; and this act shall extend also to all banks, saving, trust, and insurance companies, and corporations with banking privileges, chartered or re-chartered under any law, for periods hereafter to commence, and to the payment of stock to all banks incorporated by the Legislature at its last session.

Sec. 2. That, in addition to all statements and returns now required by law, each and every bank in the cities of Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and Allegheny shall, on the first discount day in January next, and weekly thereafter, and every other bank in this Commonwealth, on the same day, and monthly thereafter, make up a statement, to be verified by the oath or affirmation of the president or cashier thereof, showing—first, the amount of its loans and discounts; second, the amount of specie in the possession of and owned by such bank, and the balance due from other banks, in distinct items; third, the amount of its notes outstanding; fourth, the amount of deposits, including individual deposits and balances due to other banks; which statement shall be published in the next succeeding issue of a newspaper of the county in which the bank is located, or if there be no newspaper in such county, then in a newspaper of some neighboring county; and any violation of this law, or failure to comply with its provisions by any president or any cashier of any bank, shall be a misdemeanor, and each of the said officers shall, upon conviction thereof, be punished by a fine of not less than five hundred dollars, nor more than one thousand dollars, at the discretion of the court; one half to be given to the prosecutor, and one half to the county in which such bank is located.

Sec. 3. That the said banks are hereby required, until the second Monday of April aforesaid, to receive, at par in payment of all debts due, or to become due to them, respectively, the notes of all the solvent banks of the Commonwealth which paid specie for all their liabilities on and immediately prior to the first day of September last, and which shall continue solvent; and the said banks are also hereby authorized to pay out, in all their business transactions and discounts, the said notes so long as the banks issuing the same shall remain solvent; but in case any President, and a majority of the Board of Directors of any of the said banks shall certify to the Governor, under oath or affirmation of the President, his apprehension and belief that any bank in said certificate named is in an unsafe condition, the Governor shall thereupon appoint three judicious persons, not interested in said bank, as commissioners to investigate the condition of such bank. And the said commissioners shall, after taking an oath or affirmation to perform the duties of their appointment with fidelity, forthwith proceed to make the said investigation and report the result thereof within ten days to the Governor; and if the officers of the said bank shall refuse to permit the said commissioners to make such investigation, or to produce any books or documents necessary for that purpose, or if the said commissioners, or a majority of them, shall report that the said bank is in an unsafe condition, the Governor shall thereupon issue his proclamation, declaring the charter of the said bank to be forfeited, and the said bank shall be deprived of all the benefits of this act, and the directors thereof shall forthwith make and execute an assignment in the manner provided by the act entitled "An act regulating banks," approved the sixteenth day of April, Anno Domini eighteen hundred and fifty, and the expenses of such commission, including the compensation of the commissioners at eight dollars per day, each shall be paid by the bank against which it is issued, unless the report shall be favorable to its condition, in which case they shall be paid by the applicants; but any bank or banks, which shall, before the period hereinbefore limited, resume and continue the payment of specie on all their liabilities, shall not after such resumption, and during such continuance, be subject to any of the provisions of this section: Provided, That no bank shall be required to receive the notes of any bank against which a certificate may be made as aforesaid, at any time after the delivery of the same to the Governor, until the commissioners shall report in favor of such bank, after which the notes of such bank shall again be received as required by the provisions of this section.

Sec. 4. That the several collectors of taxes, tolls, and other revenues of the Commonwealth, and also County treasurers, are hereby authorized to receive, for State purposes, the notes of the solvent banks of this Commonwealth, though not specie paying banks, in payment of the said taxes, toll, and revenues, and the State Treasurer is hereby authorized to receive and receipt for the same in the same manner as though said banks were specie-paying.

Sec. 5. That the deposits by the State Treasurer, or to the credit of the Commonwealth, in the several banks and other corporations, and all bank notes which are now or may hereafter be in the Treasury during the period of suspension aforesaid, shall, from time to time, on demand of the said Treasurer, be paid by the said banks or other corporation respectively, in specie, in such amounts as may be required by said Treasurer, to enable him to pay the interest accruing on the public loans of the Commonwealth.

Sec. 6. That upon all judgments heretofore entered in suits commenced by writ or otherwise, or which may be entered during the period hereinbefore mentioned, in actions instituted by writ or otherwise, in any court in this Commonwealth, or before any alderman or justice of the peace, or judgments obtained before said officers, if the defendant shall be possessed of any estate in fee simple, within the respective county, worth, in the opinion of the court, alderman, or justice, the amount of the said judgment, over and above all incumbrances, and the amount exempted from levy and sale on execution, he shall be entitled to a stay of execution thereon, on judgment now obtained, or to be obtained on suits now brought for the term of one year from the date of the passage of this act, and on all others for one year, to be be computed from the first day of the term to which the action was commenced; and every defendant in such judgment may have the same stay of execution thereon, if within thirty days from the passage of this act, or within thirty days from the rendition of any future judgment, he shall give security to be approved of by the court or by a judge thereof, or by such alderman or justice of the peace before whom such judgment was obtained, for the sum recovered, together with the interest and costs: Provided, That this section shall not apply to the wages of labor nor to debts upon which stay of execution is expressly waived by the debtors, nor to judgments upon which a stay of execution has already been taken under existing laws. And provided, That the provisions of this section shall extend to judgments entered or to be entered, as well upon bond and warrant of attorney as upon mortgages to secure the same, and to any subsequent grantee or owners of the premises so bound, as well as to the original obligor or mortgagor. Provided further, That said stay of execution shall not apply to judgments or mortgages, or on bonds secured by mortgage, unless the interest thereon shall be paid within sixty days after the accruing of the same, in such funds as the banks are authorized by this act to use.

Sec. 7. This act shall take effect immediately, except the 3d section, which shall not go into operation until the provisions of this act are accepted as herein provided, but no bank or other corporation shall be embraced within its provisions more than thirty days after the passage hereof, or after any bank shall have suspended specie payments upon its notes or obligations unless the stockholders of such bank or other corporation shall before the expiration of the said thirty days or within thirty days after any bank shall have suspended specie payments upon its notes or obligations, at a meeting to be called by the directors thereof for that purpose on ten days' public notice, in one or more newspapers, accept the provisions of this act by a majority of votes of said stockholders, to be voted and counted according to the provisions in the charter of such accepting bank, or other corporation regulating the election of directors, but to make such acceptance valid, there shall be filed in the office of the Auditor General of this Commonwealth a certificate that this act has been duly accepted under the common seal of such bank or other corporation, attested by the signature of its president or cashier. And each of the said banks accepting the provisions of this act, shall also pay into the Treasury, of the Commonwealth, on or before the first day of January, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and fifty eight, or within thirty days after any bank shall accept the provisions of this act, a sum equal to one fourth of one per centum upon the capital stock of said bank, in addition to any amounts they are now by law required to pay.

Sec. 8. That the 47th section of the act approved April 16, 1850, entitled, "An act regulating banks," be, and the same is hereby, repealed: Provided, That all suits brought or now pending for forfeitures or penalties under the section hereby repealed shall not be effected thereby.

Sec. 9. That the Legislature hereby reserves the right and power to alter, revoke or annul the charters of any bank or banks, corporation or corporations, accepting the provisions of this act, whenever in their opinion the same may prove injurious to the citizens of the Commonwealth, in such manner, however, as to do no injustice to the corporators.

Sec. 10. That no bank, savings fund, insurance or trust company shall, directly or indirectly, purchase, or be concerned in the purchase of the notes of any of the incorporated Banks of the State at less than their par value; and any and every of the officers of said institutions violating the provisions of this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, punishable, upon conviction by a fine of not less than five hundred dollars, nor more than one thousand dollars, one half to be paid to the informer, and the other half to the use of the Commonwealth.

Sec. 11. That no stocks, bonds, promissory notes, personal property, or other valuable securities, hypothecated or held in pledge either with power of attorney attached or otherwise, for credit or money loaned, shall be sold for the period of six months from the passage of this act without the consent of the debtor, debtors, or party hypothecating or pledging the same being first had and obtained in writing.

Sec. 12. That the notice required for payments, provided in the charters of savings fund and trust companies, on all sums exceeding one hundred dollars, be, and the same is hereby extended for the period of two months during the period of suspension of specie payments authorized by this act.

Large Failure.

We are compelled (says the Patriot & Union,) to announce the sudden and complete failure of the firm of Wilmot & Co.—They failed to a very large amount—liabilities heavy—assets nothing. The cause of their failure is said to be the sudden fall in the price of "bleeding Kansas" stock in which they had been dealing heavily. This is their second failure. No use of liquidating, because it is estimated that they can't pay one per cent. of their liabilities. They had succeeded by puffing, in inflating their stock to a higher figure. A large number of people were induced to invest, and have been ruined by their failure.

$4000 LOAN!—The Managers of the Huntingdon Gas Company desire to negotiate a loan of FOUR THOUSAND DOLLARS, for Five years, interest payable semi-annually, for the purpose of paying the balance due for the construction of their works; and proposals will be received until the 11th day of November next, stating the rate of interest at which the above sum or a portion of it, will be loaned.

The 9th section of their charter is as follows:—"That the Managers of this Company are hereby authorized to borrow, if necessary, any sum or sums of money, not exceeding ten thousand dollars, for the purpose of aiding them in the construction of their works, and to secure the payment of the same may execute a mortgage or judgment upon their works and real estate signed by their president and attested by their secretary, in favor of the person or persons who may have loaned the same; and the said managers shall provide for the payment of the interest, not to exceed eight per cent. per annum upon any loan made under this section, out of the receipts of said Company, before any dividends shall be paid to the stockholders."

The above loan will be the only lien upon the works, which are now in successful operation, at a cost of $12.000.
Huntingdon, Oct. 21, 1857. WM. DORRIS, Jr., Pres't.

A VALUABLE PROPERTY IN HUNTINGDON FOR SALE.—The subscriber will offer at Public Sale, on TUESDAY of the first week of November Court, being the 10th day of said month, the valuable property now occupied as his residence, and also by the "Globe" printing office. The lot fronts on Hill street, at the north-west corner of the Diamond, the improvements being a large two-story frame front and back building, a large stable with stall-room for twenty-five or thirty horses, feed house, &c.—This property is known as the old "Franklin House" property, for many years occupied by Christian Couts, and is the best situation for a Public House, (for the convenience of farmers and travellers) in the borough. For the mercantile business there is no better situation in town. Any person wishing to secure a valuable stand for any kind of business would do well to give this property his attention.

Terms made known on day of sale, or on application to the undersigned. WM. LEWIS.
Huntingdon, Oct. 14, 1857.

VALUABLE REAL ESTATE AT PUBLIC SALE.—The undersigned will offer at Public Sale, on FRIDAY the 20th day of NOVEMBER, 1857, A VALUABLE FARM, situate in Warriorsmark township, Huntingdon county, Pa., estate of John Henderson, dec'd, containing about 342 acres—200 acres cleared, 13 of which are in meadow. The improvements are a two-story stone DWELLING HOUSE, with kitchen in basement, a bank barn, a never-failing spring of limestone water convenient to the house, an apple orchard, and other improvements.

The farm is in a good state of repair and cultivation, and is about one mile from the Pennsylvania Rail Road.

Persons wishing further information, or, to examine the property, can call on or address the undersigned, at Birmingham, near the property.

The property will be divided, if desired, to suit purchasers.
JOHN OWENS,
ROBERT HENDERSON,
Executors of Will of John Henderson, dec'd.

A FARM AT PUBLIC SALE.—ORPHANS' COURT SALE.—In pursuance of an Order of the Orphans' Court of the county of Huntingdon, I will offer at Public Sale at the Court House in the borough of Huntingdon, on SATURDAY, 7th of NOVEMBER, 1857, at ONE o'clock, P. M., the following described Real Estate of Alexander Gwin, dec'd, to wit:

A Plantation or Tract of Land, situate in the township of Henderson, in the county of Huntingdon, adjoining land of John McCahan's heirs, Christian Couts, Samuel Friedley, John Simpson and Elisha Shoemaker, containing 225 acres, or thereabouts, be the same more or less, on which there are about 150 acres cleared, having thereon a large frame bank barn, log dwelling house, apple orchard, a good well of water, &c. Said tract of land is distant from Huntingdon two miles, a public road leading from Huntingdon to Ennisville passes through it, and on the east it is bounded by Stone Creek; said farm is well adapted to raising stock, having a large quantity of meadow thereon.

TERMS OF SALE.—One-fourth of the purchase money to be paid on confirmation of the sale, the balance in three equal annual payments with interest, payable annually, to be secured by the bonds and mortgage of the purchaser.
JAMES GWIN,
Guardian of the minor children of Alexander Gwin, and Charles A. Gwin.

The High Price of Provisions.

In speaking of the high prices of provisions, and the scarcity of money the Philadelphia Ledger, justly remarks that the universal complaint that provisions are too high, is not without foundation. Now that a dollar, for more practical purposes, should buy more than it has done for years it is a curious thing, to say the least, that it will hardly command the usual quantity of the food which composes the necessaries of life. If one wishes to purchase furniture, or dry goods, or horses, or carriages, or stocks, or anything, in fact, except bread, meat, vegetables, milk and butter, he can obtain them greatly cheaper than he could six months ago. Not so however with provisions. As yet, the products of the soil have been able to resist, in a large degree, the downward tendency of prices. These high prices of agricultural products under a contracting currency, whose purchasing power should every day be growing greater are not founded in reason, and cannot be maintained.—From every quarter of the Union, for example, we hear only of abundant crops. Under any circumstances, therefore, the price of wheat must have come down; but in the present stringency of the money market, a heavy decline has occured, and is still in progress. Farmers, to sell their products, must accomodate the price to the general decline. Accordingly, at all the great central points of the West, grain has fallen in price. The necessity of economy, which four families out of every five is feeling, will tend still further to bring down wheat. The needy will be careful to avoid waste. What is true of this great cereal, is true also of other simple agricultural products. It will take time to effect this reduction, but it is just as inevitable as the contraction in the amount of money which measures and controls prices. But as all prices under such a process come down together, their relative values are not altered, or, in other words, the same amount of flour or potatoes will exchange for the same amount of groceries or dry goods, or any other exchangeable value which the owner of the flour and potatoes may need. The value of every product is measurable in a less amount of dollars but in the same amount of products. The process of reduction is slow, because every productive interest is fighting, though independently, against it; but it is a sure one, because the interests of all the consumers, a larger number, are united to effect it.

From the Phila. Pennsylvanian.

A Remedy for the Times.

Most of our factories, mines, and iron works have stopped. The mechanical trades are languishing. The number of people thrown out of employment, already alarmingly great, is daily increasing. The winter is approaching, and the small savings of our mechanics, artificers, and laborers—the most numerous class of the community—are rapidly diminishing. Before long the last hard earned dollar will be spent, the last article of furniture and clothing that possibly may be spared, pawned perhaps, and what then? They must live, they, their wives and little ones, and where and how are they to obtain the means of subsistence? Something must be done without delay. On this point all agree. What is it? Some of our cotemporaries appeal to charity—charity, private and public. But the distress is too general to be relieved by this means. Again there are those who could not be reached by charity. Their feelings of self respect forbid them to receive anything, save in payment of their labor. These feelings society is bound to honor; they form its moral foundation. Let society be careful not to lower the standard of human dignity. Employment, we repeat it, is the only solution of this problem. Coal is needed, shelter and clothing and all other necessaries of life are wanted in the same measure now as formerly and indeed in a higher, for the very reason that for some time past the production of them has been impaired. The true remedy lies not in retrenchment alone, nor in donations, however liberal the hand that extends and charitable the heart that prompts them. It lies in redoubled activity. It is absolutely impossible to meet the emergency in any other way, and whatever the conditions are of an instant resumption of work, they must be accepted. The changes in the relations of capital and labor which altered circumstances will devolve, should be promptly anticipated by mutual concessions. Compromises should be made in a rational and friendly spirit to the advantage of all parties interested. Production of the necessaries of life should not cease, for, it would superadd scarcity to the prevailing financial disorders. We must continue to mine coal, to erect shelter, and to produce fabrics, for, these things are daily used and consumed.—Under our system of paper inflation everything has been unduly enhanced. After the collapse of that system, its effects cannot long continue to influence our condition. A marked reduction of prices accompanied, or immediately followed upon its downfall, indicating the direction which our efforts for the restoration of the disturbed equilibrium of business ought to take. Rents have assumed under the stimulus of our system of paper expansion an exhorbitant height; they have to come down, because the system did.—Taxes must be reduced by greater administrative economy. The market price of provisions, of bread, meat, butter, vegetables must be lowered; clothing and all must become cheaper. This, indeed, will be the ultimate and inevitable result of the process that is going on under our eyes. True wisdom dictates not only submission to the inevitable, but often advises us to hasten its consummation. Once the equilibrium of values re-established, there can be no doubt, but that activity will be resumed. All will, then, be contented and prosperous again.—One of our cotemporaries proposes that the cities should appeal to the charitable feelings of the country population to assist their distressed inhabitants. We have little faith in the efficacy of such measures, for reasons already explained. We appeal to the common sense of our farmers, and their manly honor. We appeal to their reason, as we appeal to that of our manufacturers, merchants, workmen, mechanics and landlords. Let all do their duty and compromise and settle in an amicable spirit their differences. Let farmers come down with the price of their market goods, readily accommodating themselves to the altered conditions of things.—This they will have to do compulsorily, if they do not do it voluntarily. The question is simply one of time, only their holding out aggravates the present evils. Let landlords practice forbearance on the same principle and for the same reasons. Let them be satisfied with a reduced rent, rather, than subject tenants to the expense and trouble of moving. This is, after all, only accelerating the process of general reduction that has become unavoidable. Let people of independent means live as they were accustomed to; let them not be actuated by miserly considerations, and pay as they go along in cash for all their wants, for, it is of the greatest consequence that all our monetary means should be put into circulation. Manufacturers must resume work. If they cannot afford to employ their people an entire day, let three quarters or half of a day's work be performed, so that those who depend for a living on their daily labor may never be wholly destitute of means. Let goodwill and harmony not be wanting between the different parties. Let there be concert of action, and above all things, let the money required for the purpose of a revival of business not be withheld any longer. It is in the country. It was here two and three months ago, and is here yet. Let those who hold it remember, that unless it be employed immediately, and unless the working classes be enabled to purchase with the proceeds of their labor their share of the abundance of our harvest, neither that abundance however large, or charitable actions of whatever description, nor any legislative devices imaginable will prevent an accumulation of evils during next winter that may baffle all efforts of control. Every day that work remains suspended adds to our difficulties. Prudence and humanity both dictate that we should do without delay what we will be forced to do hereafter.

List of Premiums

Awarded by the several committees of the third annual exhibition of the Huntingdon county Agricultural Society.

CLASS 1.—HORSES.

For Best Stallion, to Adam Lightner,	$7 00
2nd best do., A. C. Myton,	4 00
3rd best do., Henry Neff,	3 00
And to Andrew Decker, through the discretionary committee, a premium of	2 00
Best 2 year old colt, Geo. Smith,	5 00
To John Jackson, through the discretionary committee,	3 00
To Elliot Robley, through the same,	3 00
Thomas Whittaker, through the same,	2 00
Wm. Rupert, " " "	1 00

The committee here labored under a very great difficulty on account of the two year old colts not being classified.—They were all exceedingly fine and received our marked attention, both as to number and quality.

Col. G. Dorsey Green exhibited a fine and well bred filley, which reflects great credit on him for the care and attention he pays to fine stock.

Best 3 year old colt, Isaac Martin,	5 00

To Henry Cornprobst a premium through the discretionary committee.

Best yearling colt, Thomas Whittaker, through the discretionary committee,	2 00
To Wm. Morningstar, through the same,	1 00

A very fine colt was also exhibited by Thos S. McCahan.

Best colt under 1 year old, John Horning,	2 00

Also, a premium to Wm. Speck, through the discretionary committee.

Best brood mare, John Jackson,	5 00
2nd do do Peter Stryker,	2 50
Best pair of draft horses, Henry Cornprobst,	5 00
2nd best do., J. M. Oaks,	3 00
To Peter Stryker, through discretionary committee,	2 00
Best pair matched horses, A. P. Wilson,	6 00
2nd best do., Jno. C. Watson,	4 00

Thomas Whittaker, A. Shenefelt and F. H. Lane had each a pair of horses of great service and durability.

Best saddle horse, A. C. Myton,	4 00
2d do do John Simpson,	2 00
To Thos. Gregg through the discretionary committe,	3 00
Best trotting horse, James McManigill	3 00
2d do do Charles A. Anderson,	2 00

Gen. John McComb, Elliot Robley and Michael Kyper had also very fine moving horses, and had the weather been favorable and the course in good order we would undoubtedly have had a fine display of trotting nags although it exceeded our most sanguine expectations under the circumstances.

Best family horse, G. D. Green,	3 00
2d best do., J. M. Oaks,	2 00

Sheriff Miller, John Hight and George Clements, also exhibited horses deserving the especial notice of all who prize a safe, durable, and reliable family horse.

Best pair of mules, Love & McDivitt,	6 00

The extreme inclemency of the weather—the large amount of stock on hand—the want of classification of the same—the very limited premiums offered, and the lack of a discretionary power, placed us in rather a peculiar situation, nevertheless, as far as was in our power, in our judgment, differing as individuals would necessarily do according to the nature of things, we hope that we have rendered justice to those most deserving, and also hope that those persons to whom we have not awarded premiums will view the circumstances in their proper light. The committee would strongly and respectfully recommend, that at some one of the Agricultural meetings, a sufficient time previous to the next annual exhibition, a committee be appointed from different parts of the county consisting of good practical farmers, and especially those who take an interest in good stock, and the improvement of the same, to make a list of premiums, and further that the committee appointed to examine horse stock be hereafter endowed with a discretionary power.

J. S. GRIFFITH, JAS. WILSON,
JNO. C. WATSON, ALEX. M. OAKS,
PETER STRYKER.

CLASS 2.—NEAT STOCK.

Best milch cow, James Hight,	4 00
2d best do., Reuben Oaks,	3 00

2d best do., John F. Yocum,	4 00
Best bull, Thomas McCahan,	5 00
2d best do., Jacob Sprankle,	3 00
3rd best do., Levi W. Pheasant,	2 00
Best 3 year old heifer, Gen. A. P. Wilson,	3 00
2d best do., Wm. Morningstar,	2 00
Best calves, Thomas Whittaker,	2 00

Owing to the inclemency of the weather the assortment of cattle was not so full as was expected, or as could have been desired. Respectfully submitted,

PETER LIVINGSTON,
ALEXANDER PORT,
DAVID RUPERT.

CLASS 3.—HOGS.

Best boar, Daniel Goodman,	5 00

" hard soap, " " "	1 00
Best barrel flour, D. W. McCoy,	2 00
2nd best do., A. J. McCoy,	1 00
The committee recommend also the following premiums:
Best currant wine, Mrs. E. C. Wilson,	1 00
" raspberry vinegar, Mrs. T. H. Cremer,	1 00
" beeswax, Mrs. E. C. Wilson,	1 00

There were many specimens of butter, bread, and preserves, which were very excellent, but the committee were compelled to select three from the many, as especially deserving. The committee refused to award premiums where merit was not exhibited by the manufacturer, the mere absence of competition not entitling any person to a premium.

A. W. BENEDICT, Mrs. J. S. ISETT,
Mrs. J. SIMPSON AFRICA, PETER C. SWOOPE,
Miss SUE NEFF, B. LAWRENTZ.

CALSS 9.—WEARING APPAREL.

2d best do., Miss Mary E. Orbison,	50

A variety of other articles were on exhibition which the committee considered well worthy of attention, amongst which might be enumerated two lamp mats by Miss Nannie Black, one sofa pillow by Miss Nannie Patton, a lamp mat by Miss Nannie Gwin, a collar by Miss Lydia Morris, and a sampler by Miss Shoemaker. A child's dress made by Mrs. C. Benedict, aged 86 years, attracted also, considerable attention.

Mrs. MARY W. NEFF, Miss MARY A. AFRICA,
Mrs. ELIZA H. STITT, Mrs. MARY C. GIVEN,
Mrs. CATHARINE WILLOUGHBY.

CLASS 11.—MECHANICAL IMPLEMENTS AND MANUFACTURES.

Best side of sole leather, B. X. Blair,	$1 00
" specimen of marble work, Wm. Williams,	2 00
" carriage, Owen Boat,	2 00
" buggy, " "	1 00
" harness and upper leather, Krotzley & Kean,	1 00
" kip and calf skin, " "	1 00
" pair of horse shoes, Bergen & Grim,	50

A specimen of hardware was exhibited by Jas. A. Brown & Co., which received the consideration of the committee and which they recommend—but they did not properly belong to the list, and are referred to the discretionary committee.

I. GRAFFIUS, GEO. JACKSON, JACOB H. MILLER.

CLASS 12.—FRUITS.

2d best do., Daniel Neff,	1 00
Best doz. peaches, Henry W. Miller,	1 00
2d best do., Wm. Pheasant,	50
Best doz plums, Theo. H. Cremer,	1 00

The number of exhibitors is greater than at any previous fair, and for rare and choice fruit, your committee judging from the collection on exhibition, are of opinion that Huntingdon county may challenge competition with any county in the State.

Your committee not having the privilege of awarding any more premiums than the published list, but feeling convinced that there are other exhibitors deserving not only of notice, but of premiums, would respectfully recommend to the Discretionary Committee that premiums be awarded as follows, to wit:

To John Anderson, for a large and fine collection of apples, embracing 61 varieties, a premium of	$1 00
Israel Graffius, for 44 varieties of choice fruit, and superior pound apples,	1 00
Alex. Carothers, for 59 varieties of choice apples,	1 00

CLASS 14.—FLOWERS.

In the judgment of the committee floriculture has advanced in this county within the last few years, and the display of plants and flowers at the present, is better than that of any former exhibition.

Mrs. Mary Miller contributed twenty-three pots of flowers, in bloom, consisting of roses and verbenas of various colors, petunias, pinks, &c.

Miss Jane Woods displayed eighteen pots of plants in bloom, comprising roses, pinks, phloxes, petunias, &c., and also a beautiful and well arranged boquet.

Gen. J. C. Watson's lady furnished several stalks of dahlias in bloom, as well as a boquet of dahlias and another of various flowers, tastefully arranged.

And several other ladies, whose names will be mentioned in connexion with premiums, exhibited rich and well-arranged boquets; and all these together rendered the floral department of the Fair quite a gay and attractive spot. The committee regret that some flowers were upon the stand which were neither labelled nor entered upon the books, and the contributors consequently unknown to the committee.

After a careful examination of all the plants and flowers the committee award the following premiums:

To Mrs. Mary Miller, of Huntingdon, for the best display of flowers in bloom,	$2 00
Miss Jane Woods, of Huntingdon, for the second best display of flowers in bloom,	1 00
Mrs. Caroline Watson, of Mill Creek, for a display of dahlias and a boquet,	1 00
And to the following named persons the following premiums for boquets of dahlias and culled flowers:
To Mrs. H. L. Brown, of Cassville,	50
Miss Fanny Neff, of Porter township,	50
Miss Emma Dorland, of Huntingdon,	50
Miss Susan Neff, of Porter township,	50
Mrs. George C. Bucher, of Alexandria.	50
Mrs. L. C. Hall, of Huntingdon,	50

CLASS 16.—PRINTING.

The specimens exhibited were of branches of the art so different as to render comparison difficult.

Wm. Lewis, for the "Globe" office, exhibited a large variety of mercantile and legal blanks, business cards, and handbills, which came more immediately within the divisions to which premiums were allotted. They were evidently copies of the custom work done at his office, all tastefully got up, and admirably executed, reflecting great credit on the office, and would compare favorably with the work of any office in our large cities.

Wm. Brewster, from the "Journal" office, had only a limited number of specimens, and those fancy and ornamental, being printed in colors and bronze, and evidently specimens printed as such; consequently less perfect than they could have been had a quantity been printed. They were all neatly displayed, exhibiting much taste, and some of the business cards were very beautifully executed. The only blank exhibited by Mr. Brewster was a Broad Side Deed, especially deserving of notice, as a fine specimen of blank printing, being certainly equal if not better than any blank on exhibition.

Under the circumstances, your committee, believing that the efforts of our printers to establish for their art a reputation for taste and beauty, are deserving of commendation and encouragement, and accordingly make the following award:

Wm. Lewis, for the largest variety and best specimens of Business Cards and Blanks,	1 00
For the largest variety and best specimens of Handbills,	1 00
Wm. Brewster, for the best specimen of Blank Deed,	1 00
Best specimen of Fancy Printing,	1 00

A. W. BENEDICT, THEO. H. CREMER,
J. KINNEY McCAHAN.

CLASS 17.—PAINTING.

Best oil painting, Geo. C. Wilson,	1 00
2nd best do.,	50
Best lithograph in oil, Miss C. T. Benedict,	1 00

A very fair specimen of oil painting in glass by the same. Sole specimen on exhibition.

Best drawing in crayon, Miss C. Miles and Miss Amelia Snyder,	1 00
2nd best do., Miss Mary Orbison,	50
Committee recommend that premiums be given to the following persons for excellent specimens of drawing in crayon,
To Miss Wolverton,	50
Miss Given,	50
Miss Ker,	50
Miss Hall,	50

O. O. McCLEAN, Miss MARTHA WILSON,
D. BLAIR, Miss ELLEN GREGG.

CLASS 18.—DISCRETIONARY.

Specimen of pig metal, exhibited by Gen. John C. Watson,	$3 00
Specimens of satinett and cassimeres, by Rankin & Williams, $2 on each piece,	4 00
Specimens of manufactured corn brooms, by John A. Crawford, of Blair county,	1 00
Pair of English goats, John Nightwine,	1 50
Pair of Guinea pigs, by Joseph Nightwine,	50
Two homemade twilled bags, by John Peightal,	1 00
Homemade linen and toweling, by Mrs. M. Weaver,	1 00
Specimen of broom corn, by S. Cheney,	50
Specimen of millet, Jesse Gorsuch,	50

The committee would particularly notice a Map of Tyrone City, drawn and executed by J. Simpson Africa, Esq. As a work of the kind, it exhibits both accuracy and neatness, as well as a superior display of talent, in that particular branch of science.

Other committees of the society having found a greater display of stock, fruit, eatables, wearing apparal and painting than their premium list would pay, have recommended to the discretionary committee the following named persons, together with the different premiums awarded them. All of which this committee have considered, and agreed to allow, and would respectfully recommend to the Treasurer to pay:

Class 1.—The committee on horses have recommended the following named persons as entitled to premiums:
Andrew Decker, one stallion,	1 00
John Jackson, one 2 year old colt,	3 00
Elliot Robley, one do.,	3 00
Thomas Whittaker, one do.,	2 00
William Rupert, one do.,	1 00
Thomas Whittaker, one yearling do.,	2 00
William Morningstar, one do., do.,	1 00
William Speck, colt under one year old,	1 00
Peter Stryker, one draft horse,	2 00
Thomas Gregg, one riding pony,	2 00
Class 8.—The committee on eatables recommend the following named persons for premiums:
Best currant wine, Mrs. E. C. Wilson,	$1 00
Raspberry vinegar, Mrs. T. H. Cremer,	1 00
Beeswax, Mrs. E. C. Wilson,	1 00
Class 9.—Committee on wearing apparel recommend a premium on one quilt to Mrs. Harriet Mattern,	$1 00
Committee on painting has given the names of four young ladies for premiums, to wit: Miss Wolverton, Miss Gwin, Miss Ker, Miss Hall, each	50

The fruit committee has handed in a large list of extra premiums, their reason for so doing is set forth in the report at length.

John Anderson $1, Israel Graffius $1, Alexander Carothers $1, Moses Silknitter 50c., Jackson Norris $1. Reuben Oaks $1, George Hawn $1, William Pheasant $1, Peter Stryker $1, James Simpson $1, John McComb, on grapes, $2, J. A. Hall, do., $1, Edward Woods, do., $1, Mrs. J. S. Africa, do., $1, Mrs. Andrew Harrison, raspberries, $1 00

VALUABLE REAL ESTATE near Huntingdon, Pa.

ORPHANS' COURT SALE.

In pursuance of Orders of the Orphans' Court of the county of Huntingdon, the Tracts of Land, &c., hereinafter described, situate in said county, and near the borough of Huntingdon, will be exposed to public sale on the premises, on TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 3rd, 1857, as the property of John Ker, late of said county, dec'd, to wit:

1. All that tract marked (A) in the Diagram annexed to the return of the Inquest, containing 237 acres and 130 perches, it being the Mansion Farm of said dec'd. About one half of this tract is cleared and under cultivation; about 40 acres of which is meadow. Running water for cattle, &c., may be readily introduced into almost every field upon this farm. There are upon it a two story frame dwelling house, a large brick barn and other buildings. Also a good apple orchard.

2. All that tract marked (C) in said diagram, containing 237 acres and 68 perches, and called the Moore farm. Somewhat more than half of this tract is cleared and under cultivation, a fair proportion of which is meadow. On account of the nearness of these two farms to the borough of Huntingdon and the large quantity of meadow upon each, they would be well suited for grazing or stock farms.

3. All that tract marked (D) in said Diagram, containing 185 acres 132 perches; about one half of this tract is cleared and under cultivation, and has thereon erected two tenant houses.

4. All that tract marked (E) in said Diagram, containing 214 acres, 87 perches; about 100 acres of this tract are cleared and under cultivation. No buildings thereon.

5. All that tract marked (G) in said Diagram, containing 119 acres; woodland.

6. All that tract marked (K) in said Diagram, containing 87 acres 147 perches; woodland.

7. All that tract marked (L) in said Diagram, containing 148 acres, 83 perches; woodland.

8. All that tract marked (M) in said Diagram, containing 117 acres, 147 perches; woodland.

9. A lot of ground in the village of Smithfield marked (O) in said Diagram, having thereon erected a small log stable.

10. The one undivided fourth part of five adjoining tracts of land situate in Henderson and Porter townships, containing together about 700 acres, be the same more or less. Upon these tracts or within their boundaries, there is a large amount of water power, for any kind of works; inexhaustible quarries of limestone and other stone for building; a dwelling house and other buildings thereon erected. Upon these tracts there is also a large amount of valuable timber.

11. An undivided interest in Milnwood Academy in Dublin township, the extent of which interest will be made known upon the day of sale.

All these lands except the last mentioned, lie within a short distance of Huntingdon borough.

Sale to commence at 10 o'clock of said day.

DAVID S. KER, Trustee.

IMPROVED PATENT ASPHALTIC ROOFING FELT—A CHEAP, DURABLE AND PERFECTLY WATERPROOF ROOFING—PRICE, THREE CENTS PER SQUARE FOOT.

WM. LEWIS, Huntingdon, Agent for Huntingdon county.

This improved PATENT FELT makes a CHEAP, DURABLE and PERFECTLY WATERPROOF ROOFING, for CHURCHES, CHAPELS, PUBLIC HALLS, RAILROAD STATIONS, HOUSES, COTTAGES, VERANDAHS, FARM BUILDINGS, CATTLE and SHEEP SHEDS, and every other description of BUILDINGS, in lieu of Tin, Zinc, Shingles, Tiles, Thatch, &c.

It costs only a fraction of a Tin or Shingle Roof and is more durable, as it neither CORRODES, CRACKS nor LEAKS.

It is made of the strongest and most durable materials, and saturated with the best of Asphalte.

It is made up in Rolls, 25 yards long, 32 inches wide, and can be easily applied by any unpracticed person, with a few tacks.

It is invaluable for LINING the WALLS of WOODEN HOUSES, GRANARIES, BARNS, &c., as rats or other vermin and insects will not touch it.

IT IS IMPERVIOUS TO WET, and being a NON-CONDUCTOR, counteracts the heat of SUMMER and the cold of WINTER, equalizing the temperature within every building where it is used.

To the Agriculturist, it makes a CHEAP and EFFECTUAL ROOFING, for FARM BUILDINGS and SHEDS; a COVERING for CORN and HAY HICKS, also a DEFENCE for Sheep during snow, and in the Yard as a loose covering for Turnips and other Fodder in Winter—the use of this FELT proves a great annual saving to the Farmer.

It is suitable to every climate.

It is light and portable, being in Rolls, and not liable to damage in transportation.

When used UNDER TIN or other ROOFING, it forms a smooth body for the metal to lie tightly on, whereby the Tin wears much longer, not corroding beneath; at the same time DEADENING SOUND. Also being a NON-CONDUCTOR, it keeps the UPPER ROOMS COOL in Summer, and being WATERPROOF, prevents the Roof from LEAKING.

TO MECHANICS, INVENTORS, AND MANUFACTURERS.
In announcing the THIRTEENTH Annual Volume of the SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN, the publishers respectfully inform the public that in order to increase and stimulate the formation of clubs, they propose to offer
ONE THOUSAND FIVE HUNDRED DOLLARS IN CASH PREMIUMS
for the fifteen largest lists of subscribers sent in by the 1st of January, 1858; said premiums to be distributed as follows:—

For the largest list, $300; 2d, $250; 3d, $200; 4th, $150; 5th, $100; 6th, $90; 7th, $80; 8th, $70; 9th, $60; 10th $50; 11th, $40; 12th, $35; 13th, $30; 14th, $25; 15th, $20.

Names of subscribers can be sent in at different times and from different Post Offices. The cash will be paid to the orders of the successful competitors, immediately after the 1st of January, 1858.

Southern, Western, and Canada money will be taken for subscriptions. Canadian subscribers will please to remit 26 cents extra on each year's subscription to pre-pay postage.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.—Two dollars a Year, or One Dollar for Six Months.

CLUB RATES.—Five Copies, for Six Months, $4; Five Copies, for Twelve Months, $8; Ten Copies, for Six Months, $8; Ten Copies, for Twelve Months, $15; Twenty Copies, for Twelve Months, $28.

For all Clubs of Twenty and over, the yearly subscription is only $1 40.

The new volume will be printed upon fine paper with new type.

The general character of the SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN is well known, and, as heretofore, it will be chiefly devoted to the promulgation of information relating to the various Mechanical and Chemical Arts, Manufactures, Agriculture, Patents, Inventions, Engineering, Mill Work, and all interests which the light of Practical Science is calculated to advance. It is issued weekly, in form for binding; it contains annually from 500 to 600 finely executed Engravings, and Notices of American and European Improvements, together with an Official List of American Patent Claims published weekly in advance of all other papers.

It is the aim of the Editors of the SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN to present all subjects discussed in its columns in a practical and popular form. They will also endeavor to maintain a candid fearlessness in combating and exposing false theories and practices in Scientific and Mechanical matters, and thus preserve the character of the SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN as a reliable Encyclopædia of Useful and Entertaining Knowledge.

☞Specimen copies will be sent gratis to any part of the country.

PIANOS, MELODEONS & MUSIC.
PRICES GREATLY REDUCED!!
HORACE WATERS, 333 BROADWAY, NEW YORK, AGENT FOR THE SALE OF THE BEST BOSTON & NEW YORK PIANOS & MELODEONS.
THE LARGEST ASSORTMENT OF MUSIC MERCHANDISE IN THE UNITED STATES.

PIANOS from five different Manufactures, of every variety of style—from those in plain rosewood cases, for $200, to those of the most elegant finish, for $1000. No House in the Union can come in competition for the number, variety and celebrity of its instruments, nor the extremely low prices at which they are sold.

HORACE WATERS' MODERN IMPROVED PIANOS, with or without iron frames, have, in their NEW SCALE and IMPROVED ACTION, a power and compass of tone equalling the grand, with the beauty and durability of the square piano. The Press and first Music Masters have justly pronounced them equal if not superior to any other make.—They are guaranteed to stand the action of every climate.

HORACE WATERS' MELODEONS (tuned the equal temperament), superior in each desirable quality—can also furnish Melodeons of all other makers. Prices from $45 to $125; for two sets of reeds, 150; two banks of keys, $200; Organ pedal bass melodeons, $275 and $300.

MUSIC.—One of the largest and best catalogues of Music now published; sold at greatly reduced prices.—Music sent to wherever ordered, post-paid. Personal attention paid to all orders received by mail. Second-hand Pianos taken in exchange for new. Catalogues sent by mail. Great inducements offered to agents to sell the above. A liberal discount to dealers, teachers, seminaries and clergymen.

Each Instrument guaranteed to give satisfaction, or purchase-money refunded. SECOND-HAND PIANOS AT GREAT BARGAINS constantly in store; prices from $30 to $140.

TESTIMONIALS FROM PROFESSORS AND OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

"The Horace Waters' Pianos are known as among the very best. We are enabled to speak of these instruments with some degree of confidence, from personal knowledge of their excellent tone and durable quality."—N. Y. Evangelist.

Having inspected a lage number of the Horace Waters' Pianos we can speak of their merits, from personal knowledge, as being of the very best quality."—Christain Intelligencer.

Nothing at the State Fair displayed greater excellence in any department than the Piano-Forte manufactured by Horace Waters, of this city.—Churchman.

The following is taken from the "Christian Inquirer": "The finest among the many pianos at the Crystal Palace are those placed there by Horace Waters, whose instruments are always popular.

The following we take from the "Christian Advocate" (Memphis, Tenn.:) "The Horace Waters, Pianos are built of the best and most thoroughly seasoned material. From all we can learn of this establishment—said to be the largest in the United States—we have no doubt that buyers can do as well, perhaps better, at this than at any other house in the Union."

"Mr. Waters has been long established and is favorably known. We speak from experience when we assure our readers that his prices are below those usually charged for articles in his line."—Jacksonian, N. J.

"Your instruments are a sensible improvement upon American Pianos, and an honor to the skilful manufacturer. There is no doubt but they will be appreciated by the public and all admirers of true merit.—Oscar Comettant.

The treble is clear, pure, powerful, and very melodious, the base is deep, rolling, and sonorous: the middlepart is rich, and sympathetic, and possessing the power of singing, i. e. of uniting the sound of each tone, in a degree but rarely achieved."—Henry C. Watson.

For power of tone, depth of brass, and brilliancy of treble, together with accuracy of touch, they are equal to any make I am acquainted with, and I cordially recommend them to those wishing to purchase.—V. C. Taylor.

"Our friends will find at Mr. Waters' store the very best asortment of music and of pianos to be found in the United States, and we urge our southern and western friends to give him a call whenever they go to New York."—Graham's Magazine.

"We consider them worthy of special attention, from the resonant and exceedingly musical tone which Mr. Waters has succeeded in attaining."—N. Y. Musical World and Times.

"There is one which, for beauty of finish and richness and brilliancy of tone, equals, if it does not excel, anything of the kind we have even seen. It is from the establishment of Horace Waters. Being constructed of the best and most thoroughly seasoned material, and upon improved principles, it is capable of resisting the action of the climate, and of standing a long time in tune.—Savannah Republican, Savannah, Ga."

Waters' pianos and melodeons challenge comparison with the finest made anywhere in the country."—Home Journal.

C. L. Sholes, editor of the Kenocha "Tribune and Telegraph" says, "The piano was received in good order, and is pronounced an excellent instrument by good judges, the tone of it is particularly commended, as is indeed its external workmanship and finish, compared with its cost."

Speaking of the Horace Waters' Pianos and Melodeons at the Crystal Palace the "New York Dispatch" says:—"A number of these pianos and pedal bass organ melodeons, from their great power, and fullness and richness of tone, attract the very general attention and commendation of visitors. Waters' "New Scale" is recognized by artists as not only a sensible but important improvement in pianos."

The "New York Express" says: "The Horace Waters' Pianos are pronounced by musical amateurs as a decidedly superior article in all the requisites of this instrument, and it is fast superseding those of other manufacturers."

The "New York Evening Post" says: "The Horace Waters' Pianos are excellent as well as cheap; but he has those of other makers, as well as second-hand ones, capitally adapted to limited means."

Says the "Knoxville (Tenn.) Standard:" "Mr. Waters has long experience in the business, and has gained a reputation unsurpassed for selling the best instruments in the country."

The "Sunny South" reaches us with the following:—"This gentleman is one of the most extensive music-dealers in the Union. His pianos and melodeons have obtained great celebrity for their excellent tone and durable quality."

Says the "Valley City Advocate:" "We have taken a look at a piano which has just arrived from the celebrated establishment of Horace Waters, and must say that for tone and beauty of finish, it surpasses any we ever saw for the price."

Horace Waters' Piano-Fortes are of full, rich, and even tone, and powerful.—New York Musical Review.

"They are fully equal to any of the kind I have seen in the United States, and far superior to those of a similar make I saw in England."—Geo. Washbourne Morgan.

"I take great pleasure in announcing them instruments of a superior quality, both in tone and touch."—August Gockel.

We don't know that we ever saw better pianos—pianos better made, of finer tone and of greater power—than we met with yesterday at the fair in the Crystal Palace. The finest among them are those placed there by Horace Waters, whose pianos are always popular."—Times and Messenger.

"The Horace Waters' Pianos now on exhibition at the Fair, have attracted a surprising degree of attention; they are unrivalled by any other instrument, in perfect quality of tone and power."—Courier.

"The Horace Waters' Pianos are among the most celebrated and improved makes of the day. For power, brilliancy and richness of tone, elasticity of touch, and beauty of finish, they will not suffer in comparison with those of any other manufacturer."—Thomas Baker.

The "State Register" contains the following: "For beauty of finish, sweetness and brilliancy of tone, they undoubtedly surpass anything of the kind ever brought before the public. They equal in tone the grand piano; and being constructed of the best and most thoroughly seasoned material, they are capable of resisting the action of any climate."

Says the "Evening Mirror": They (the Horace Waters' Pianos) are very superior instruments and the maker may confidently challenge comparison with any other manufacturer in the country, as regards their outward elegance, and quality of tone and power."

☞P. BRUNKER is agent for the sale of these Pianos, for Huntingdon county. He will attend to the unpacking and putting up of them, and keeping them in tune, for a year, free of charge. He will also see that every purchaser is satisfied. They will be sold as low as any other Pianos in the United States. Sept. 9, 1857.
